III. POLICY STATEMENT

Program of Family Life Education

Family life education is an abstinence-centered sex education program that builds a foundation of knowledge and skills relating to character development, human development, decision making, abstinence, contraception and disease prevention. Abstinence-centered or abstinence-based means an approach that promotes sexual risk avoidance, or primary prevention, and teaches vital life skills that empower youth to identify healthy and unhealthy relationships, accurately understand sexually transmitted diseases and contraception, set goals, make healthy life decisions, and build character. Abstinence-centered education is a holistic approach that addresses the physical, social, emotional, psychological, economic and educational consequences of nonmarital sexual activity.

Family Life Curriculum

Shelby County Schools adopts the family life curriculum recommended by the Tennessee State Board or Department of Education (e.g., the Michigan Model for Health), unless otherwise determined by the Shelby County Board of Education.

Instructors

All family life instructors and presenters must comply with applicable state laws (TCA 49-6-1301 to 1307) and any SCS instructor or partner must be trained in the family life curriculum adopted by the school Board.
